Job Description

Carbon Management Canada (CMC) is hiring a Venture Fundraising Strategist to work alongside the communications and carbonNEXT teams. Key responsibilities and duties of the position include establishing a funding strategy, securing non-dilutive funding, building a funding pipeline and assisting with reporting obligations. The day-to-day tasks of the Venture Finance Strategist include:

- Providing knowledge and insight on public funding opportunities for promising CCUS start-ups
- Reviewing and providing feedback on CCUS start-up funding proposals
- Providing support and direction to carbonNEXT program participants on grant writing best practices and creating compelling applications
- Leading and supporting proposals, applications, and agreements for CMC and the carbonNEXT program
- Proofreading, fact-checking and evaluating deliverables against funding program(s) criteria
- Building resources and templates for funding applications
- Other duties as assigned

Required qualifications

- Degree in communications, marketing, or a related and relevant discipline
- Experience communicating technical information clearly and concisely
- Experience managing federal, provincial, or other grant funding, including reporting to funders
- Ability to prioritize multiple projects with strong time management skills
- Strong interpersonal and project management skills
- Ability to take a proactive role executing and completing projects

- Familiarity with CCUS and cleantech and a commitment to CMC’s mission of providing experience, applied research, knowledge and infrastructure to accelerate emissions reduction results.

About CMC and carbonNEXT

Carbon Management Canada (CMC) is a national, not-for-profit organization working to develop and deploy emissions reduction solutions and support the Canadian industry. We assist innovators in developing methane monitoring, carbon capture, utilization and storage (CCUS), and subsurface monitoring technologies, and provide techno-economic analysis to companies, investors, and governments to direct research, development, investment, and policymaking. CMC aims to move solutions more quickly from research to market, thereby growing the Canadian economy, increasing Canada’s competitiveness in world markets, and supporting practical, feasible, and economically viable industrial emissions reductions.

carbonNEXT is Canada’s carbontech commercialization hub for CCUS and monitoring technologies. CMC and Foresight Canada share a goal to accelerate CCUS ventures with one-window access to training and mentoring, CCUS technology validation facilities, industry partners and investors, thought leadership and sector marketing. Established in 2021, carbonNEXT builds on Canada’s early leadership in CCUS technology development and project deployment and brings partners together to energize innovation, accelerate commercialization, and fast-track adoption of carbontech solutions.
